

YOUR JOB SATISFACTION – FULFILLING & FRUITFUL?

Based on a survey of 5,000 U.S. households, only 45 percent of those surveyed say they are satisfied with their jobs<sup>2</sup>. How about you?

Put a check mark beside each descriptor below that applies to you:

Unemployed because...

- Quit, laid off or fired
- Nearly and newly graduated from college or high school
- Recently divorced or going back to work after raising children
- Relocated or relocating and seeking new job

Misemployed, miserable, unengaged or nervous because...

- St-st-st-stress!
- Worried about losing your job
- Actively disengaged in your job
- Unengaged, bored and/or in a rut
- Need or want to work from home
- Working for a boss behaving badly
- Just do not like or not good at what you are doing
- Not enough money - too many hours - maybe both
- Want to be an independent contractor or maybe own your business
- Spending too much time “on the road again” either commuting or traveling
- You relate to these lyrics sung by Tennessee Ernie Ford ...

*“You load 16 tons, and what do you get? Another day older and deeper in debt.
Saint Peter don’t call me ‘cause I can’t go. I owe my soul to the company store.”*

Happily employed, but...

- Successful and prosperous, but lacking a sense of greater purpose, vision and mission
- Half-way through your life and wondering about the “second half”
- “You can get all A’s and still flunk life.” Walker Percy

Fulfilled and called...

- Loving Mondays – passionate about the work you do
- Using God-given abilities, interests, personality and values
- Living and working with a sense of purpose, mission and fulfillment
- Hearing and following God’s calling and maximizing you career

Circle the words on the range of work situations that best describe how you feel now...

Unemployed	Misemployed/miserable/unengaged/nervous	Happily-employed, but	Called
Need work	Need to change	Something is not right	No purpose
			Fulfilled