

Is Your Job Fulfilling?

National surveys report that about half of Americans are not satisfied with their jobs. How about you? Take a look at the following descriptions to identify where you are in your work.

Unemployed or underemployed?

- Quit, laid off or fired
- Recently divorced or separated
- Retired but need the money
- Relocated to a new area
- Newly graduated from school
- Part-time/need more money after raising children
- Completed military service

Misemployed or miserably employed?

- Stressed out
- Worried about job loss
- Actively disengaged at work
- Need or want to work from home
- Too much time on the road
- Want to be self-employed
- Boss behaving badly
- Don't like or not good at the job
- Unengaged, bored or in a rut
- Too many hours – too little money
- Maybe own your own business
- Have no purpose or meaning

Happily-employed, but?

- Lack sense of purpose and meaning
- Halfway through life wondering what's next
- God is calling you to something else
- Vanity of vanities

Called and Fulfilled?

- Using God-given gifts: experiences, abilities, and personality
- Living on purpose. Hearing and following God's calling
- Loving Mondays. Passionate about your work
